

What First Grade Writing looks like

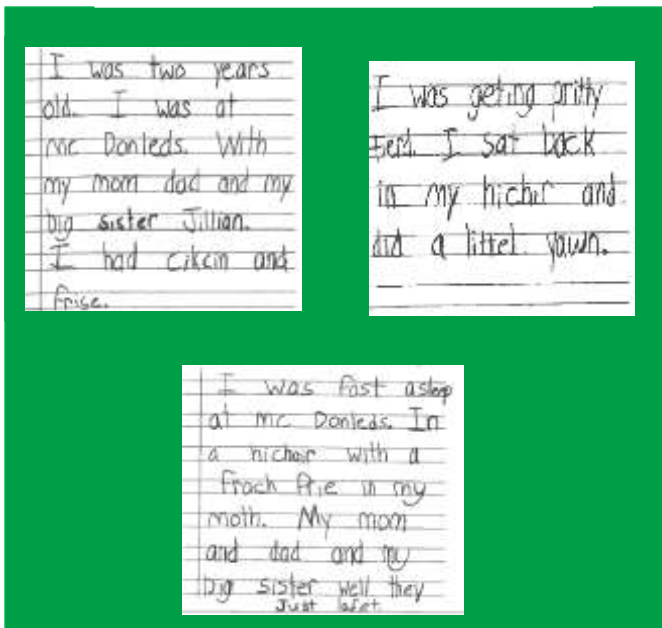

Start of the School Year

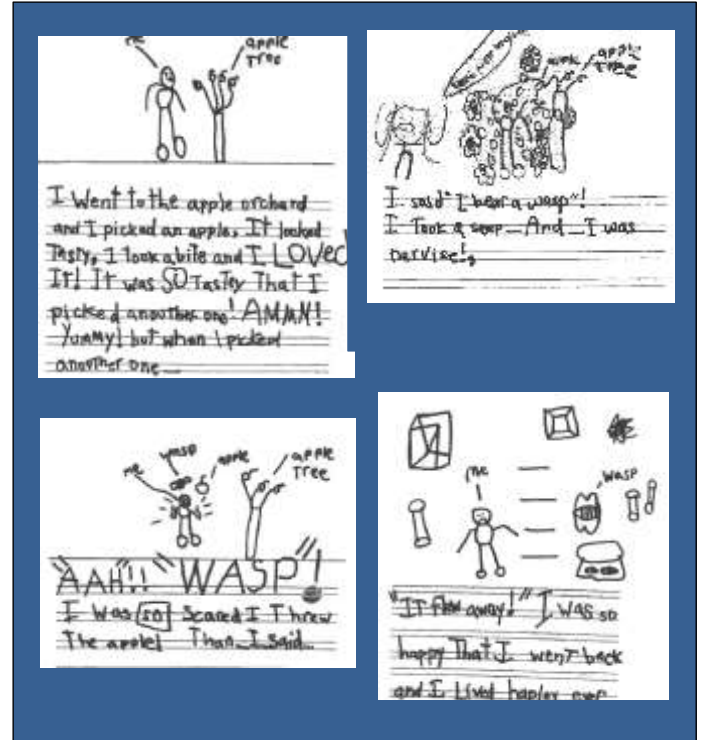

The story is told with pictures and some writing.

Mid-School Year

The story has a beginning, middle, and end.
There is an introduction and an ending.
Most words are recognizable.

End of the School Year

The story includes characters and what the characters did and said.
Writing is more detailed.
Most sentences have correct punctuation.