Attendance Matters - A Shared Responsibility

Work with your child and your school

As the parent/guardian, be strong with your child and don't let your child stay home when it is not necessary. This will help your child succeed.

If your child has a chronic disease, make sure the school staff is aware of the disease so the staff can assist your child if he/she becomes ill. Information about your child's chronic disease should be noted on the school emergency or health information card.

Keep an open line of communication with school staff and teachers. The more the school knows about your child's health, the better prepared everyone will be to work together for your child.

Good attendance will help children!
